Board Ethics
Campus Crime Stoppers of Midland

1. Speaking out on a Board action.

- A. You can't restrict board members' right to free speech, especially if they want to express their opinion at a board meeting. Once the meeting is over, personal views directed to members of the public and the media may sound as though they are speaking for the organization. Keep issues in the Board room.

2. Encourage board members to:

- A. Support Board decisions. Even if they are on the losing side of the vote.
- B. Operate as a full board, not as individuals
- C. Raise issues with the Chairman

3. Media Relations

- A. Keep the best interest of your board in mind. Realize a team operates best with one spokesperson
- B. If called upon by the media about an issue, a member's first reaction might be to speak out. If put "on the spot" simply reply "I can't comment on behalf of the board, please contact our Police Coordinator", the Chairman of the Board, or an appointed board member to be media contact. Any member of the Board may be interviewed to promote the Campus Crime Stoppers program and its successes.
